Hail Suppression Corporation Answers Critical Editorial

The editor of the Olds Gazette in an editorial last week took the hail suppression crew to task for not running the show just right. The answer to the editorial is reproduced below:

An editorial in the September 12, 1957, issue of the Olds Gazette has asked certain questions with regard to the hail suppression program this year, and in particular with regard to the destructive storm in Olds district on August 20, 1957. To begin with, it has been inferred that there were no generator operations on the day of the storm. Our records indicate that 64 generators were operated for a total of over 300 generator-hours on August 20, 1957.

Regarding a generator operator who was supposed to have telephoned the operational office to request permission to start the generator: we have no recollection of that. It may be possible, or even probable that this happened. However, if we had desired that particular generator to be in operation, we would have turned it on. If we told the lady not to turn on, it was not because we were not aware of the hail threat, but rather that we did not expect that her particular generator location would be of value to the operation.

There are a good number of technical questions regarding 'hail suppression theories and practices' that we cannot completely answer, even to our own satisfaction. However, we do know certain features which have been tested both in the laboratory and in the atmosphere. We are quite certain that the silver iodide crystals released by the 'smoke pots' are of little value until they have reached elevations where the temperature is around

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lange and Irene of Claresholm were Thursday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Folkman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Lange and Irene were Edmonton guests Friday. Miss Irene Lange remained as a student at Concordia College.

A Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hunsperger and family was Mr. Don Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Alexander. Galaxy called in for a while in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Folkman and family were Edmonton visitors Sunday. Katharine remained to continue her studies at Concordia College.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mose Dippel and Carole were Mrs. Grace Stevens and Faith. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hipkin were also afternoon callers at the Dippels.

Intended for Last Week: Mr. and Mrs. John Folkman and family of Torrington, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Jackson and daughter of Calgary and Mr. Ira Levagood were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Levagood and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Holman of Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Shantz of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Weber.

25 degrees Fahrenheit. Normally, when there is a hail threat, this temperature level is more than ten thousand feet above the ground. This means that the silver iodide crystals have to raise that high before they are of any value.

Just for example, and hoping that we are not using 'high sounding phrases or technical terms' assuming that the crystals must rise from the generators to the elevation of ten thousand feet. Also, assume that the crystals are rising at a velocity of about 200 feet per minute. This would mean that it would take about 50 minutes for the crystals to reach the 'effective level'. Also, all of the 50 minutes that the crystals are rising, they are being subjected to the winds that are blowing aloft. Again, assuming that the average strength of these winds is 25 miles per hour (which is far from uncommon). This would mean then, roughly speaking, that by the time the crystals reached their effective level, they would have been blown about 20 miles away from the generator.

All of the above is simply to point out that a generator very seldom has any effect on its immediate vicinity. In other words the generators affecting the area around Olds, are not those within that district, but those upwind.

With regard to the success or failure of the operation on August 20, the only answer we can give is that as long as hail occurs, the operation was not a complete success. We know that we cannot eliminate hail storms, but we also know that we can moderate them. If there was no moderation on the 20th, then the only answer would be that human or mechanical errors could be blamed. We can't say whether the storm path would have been lower and wider, or the hailstones larger, if operations were not in progress, but since the scientific processes used are sound, then there is some likelihood that a degree of moderation was reached. This statement can be proved, and would be of little consolation to a farmer who had been hailed out,

ROAD WORK DISRUPTS TOWN TRAFFIC

In case you were wondering about what goes on with those big machines that are tearing the main streets of the town apart, rest easy! It's a little noisy, a little inconvenient, but when the tractors stop growling we'll have paved roads.

WESTERDALE NEWS

Due to wet, stormy weather, only six members were present at the Willing Workers meeting held at the home of Mrs. A. Jones last Wednesday afternoon.

Roll call was answered by: "What I Read First In The Paper." Minutes of the previous meeting were read and a motion passed that all outstanding bills be paid.

The secretary reported that $23.76 had been raised from the tea sale at the fair and that she had been advised by the Pioneer staff that space was not available at that time to publish the full list of fair winners.

Quilts were discussed and it was decided to start sewing them. If the weather continues unfavorable for harvesting.

Mrs. R. Jackson gave a very interesting reading, entitled, "The Club Women's Creed." It was decided that hereafter the meetings would not be adjourned until after the papers and speeches have been given. Mrs. A. Jackson gave an impromptu speech on "Children."

Miss Barbara Jackson is staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Jackson at Innis Lake. She is teaching the Springfield school bus to town where she is taking her grade twelve term.

The J. E. Bolton family have moved to Didsbury where the boys are attending school.

When it could be proved. The only thing that can be said is that the individuals, hailed out or not, should try to look at the entire project when they are passing judgment on the value of hail suppression, and compare it to the surrounding area. We feel that this gives a truer picture.

Some facts regarding the program this year:

(1) The project is comprised of about 1,750,000 acres, and extends roughly from Notook to High River.

(2) There are thirty salaried employees, eleven Canadians and two Americans.

(3) There are 158 silver iodide generators and operators.

(4) As of September 16, 1957, over 28,000 generator hours had been operated.

(5) In an attempt to study and improve operations, an aircraft has been purchased. This craft was used for the first time on August 30. It was not operational and was not in Olds area on 20 of August.

Civil Defence Groups Make Timely Reports

Civil Defence director William J. Basnall of Municipal District of Mountain View commented today on the H-bomb fallout problems with respect to non-target areas:

"In an atomic war, the only hope for survival for those in target areas is complete dispersal. For those in areas unlikely to be bombed, there are other means of survival.

The main one is to stay put. Chief danger in unbombed areas would be from deadly radioactive fallout: the pulverized debris falling down from the sky after a nuclear blast.

Winds can spread fallout over wide areas. In an atomic war, no one would be safe from its effects without taking necessary precautions.

Protection from fallout can be had simply by staying under cover. The degree of protection from fallout depends, not on the strength of the refuge, but on the thickness of its walls and roof.

Such a refuge can be improvised in the basement of a home if necessary. Better still would be a slit-trench type with an adequate roof. Root cellars with three-foot thick dirt roofs would be natural shelters against fallout for those in rural areas.

A shelter or refuge must be stocked ahead of time with food, water, milk, extra clothing and so on, enough to last at least three days. By that time most of the danger from radioactivity would have faded away. A battery radio is essential for those in refuge so that they can receive information from civil defence authorities on when it is safe to come out.

It is because civil defence is essential to the survival of Canadians in an age that cannot evade the prospect of atomic war that Friday, October 4th, has been established as National Civil Defence Day across Canada.

It is a day for Canadians to consider what they can do to save themselves should the worst ever come.

Mrs. B. Johnson, Civil Defence director (co-ordinator) for the sector.

No Excuse for Errors in Vote

There'll be no excuse for spoiled ballots in the liquor plebiscite on October 30.

Instruction sheets being mailed to dep. returning officers read: "Place only one X on the straight line that appears on the ballot paper either to the right of the word 'yes' or to the right of the word 'no'."

In addition, sample ballots will be posted in polling stations. To avoid any suspicion of partiality, each poster carries a sample ballot marked "yes" and one marked "no."

The question on the ballot paper for the province-wide vote is: "Do you approve or disapprove additional types of outlets for the sale of beer, wine and spirituous liquor subject to a local vote?"

Raymond Crevelin, clerk of the legislature, has begun assembling ballot boxes, ballots and documents to send to deputy returning officers. Some 5,000 ballot boxes will be sent out, starting this week.

Town of Didsbury, explained today the purpose of National Civil Defence Day and the need for public co-operation and support.

"Every Canadian community—the biggest and the smallest—has a part to play in Canada's Civil Defectance program. If it doesn't play that part, the community one day must suddenly find it.

Prospect of a nuclear war must be faced. And because it must be, Friday, October 4, has been designated as Civil Defence Day nationwide to remind Canadians of this necessity.

The target city can save its inhabitants only by complete dispersal. But the evacuees must have a place to disperse to. That's why the rest of the country comes in—as reception centres, except in remote cases.

The first evacuees would arrive over a period of six hours. They would be billeted on the basis of one for each member of a household in the reception area. Didsbury would be responsible for 1500 evacuees.

The rest of the evacuees would arrive later, over a shorter period, to be billeted at first on a five-to-one basis. Whether a community received the first evacuees would depend on its distance from a target area. The last evacuees would have to be put up by the communities nearest the target area. They wouldn't have time to go farther.

A reception area could expect about two hours warning that a flood of evacuees was coming. Obviously, it would be too late to prepare to accommodate them once the bombs were falling. To lay out the necessary plans in advance is the purpose of Civil Defence.

It is the government's job—the federal, provincial and municipal governments—to get a Civil Defence plan started appropriate to the area's responsibility covers.

But from that point on, all government effort is a waste of public funds and effort without the essential support of its citizens."

ANOTHER CHUCKLE ! ! ! The guest waiter in amazement as the small boy of the family pounded nails into the furniture with a hammer. "Holy cow!" he said to the father. "How can you afford to let him do it?"

"Oh, it's not bad," said the father. "We get the nails wholesale."

Golf Notes . . . The local golf course was a busy place Sunday when fifty-six golfers played the links.

In the mixed two-ball foursome, Sam McMillen and his partner, Sam Moore, headed the parade with a score of 42. Mrs. G. Banta and C. Sorenson were second with a 46.

The consolation prize went to Mrs. J. Blain and A. Coulter.

Ladies are asked to contact their partners and complete names in the championship draw as soon as possible.

TEACHER PAY PLAN IS MADE A proposal suggesting a uniform teacher's salary schedule be set under a committee in which the Alberta Teachers' Association and the Alberta School Trustees' Association would participate equally, was made to the Blackstock Royal Commission here Monday.

The brief, presented by zone two of the trustees' group, states that a man in primary should be appointed by the Minister of Education. It would be free of representation of either the teachers or the trustees.

If the committee failed to agree the decision of the tribunal should be binding, the brief said.

The brief was presented as the three-man provincial royal commission continued its hearing into the possibility of establishing a uniform salary scale for the province's teachers.

And A Friendly Nod . . .

To Bill Witzke, who through his fine scholastic efforts at the local brain palace, has been awarded a scholarship from the Alberta Hotelmen's Association and also received top honors and a scholarship from Mons Chapter, I.O.O.F. Details and a picture of Bill can be found on the front page of this paper, but we would like to get our kick in here. Congrats Bill — come and see us when you've majored.

Just For The Record . . .

As we mentioned in our columns last week, Friday, October 4th has been laid on as Civil Defence Day in Canada. More details will be forthcoming from local headquarters before that date. Make sure you make a close check on them — who knows, knowledge of what to do, and when to do it, could save your life, and that of the ones you love.

Just For The Record . . .

There's a good many complaints being received at the Mountain View Municipal Office these days as regards the "smog" situation which prevails in an area east of Olds. Seems it's all caused by highway crews cooking asphalt or whatever it is they use to lay the hard-top on the new four-laner. One farmer made the remark he had a herd of Herefords when he went to bed; when he got up they looked like Black Polls. What now Mr. Taylor? We understand you're in charge of highway construction and all it entails. Or are you?

And A Friendly Nod . . .

To the recently organized Kinsmen Club of Didsbury; they're on the march for money to establish a playground in town. What could be better? Take a peek at the lower line on our back page and plan to attend the first of a series of dances that will raise the necessary funds for a much-needed service for the wee ones. If you don't dance, or can't be present, buy a ticket anyway — you couldn't spend your money for a better cause if you're thinking of the welfare of the younger set.

Visit To The M.O.

Last week I made a trip to town.
To see a chap named Doctor Brown.
My knees were bent,
my back was weak.
I lost my appetite and could not eat.

The old Doc looked at me with quite a frown.
And said: Just what are you doing in town.
You are supposed to stay on the farm.
And milk the cows that are in the barn.

He put me upon his hard old bench
And went to work with a monkey wrench.
He twisted my knees,
and then my back
Until I thought that all my bones would crack.

He then took his hammer,
that was made of lead.
And started to work upon my head.
Soon I could hear the church bells ring.
And all the little Angels sing.

After he had finished this cruel work
He grabbed my hair and gave it a jerk.
Then said with a real sarcastic laugh.
All you need is your annual bath.

I managed to get up and head for the door.
Feeling all bruised up, and really sore.
And never felt so down on my luck,
As when old Doc said,
that will cost you ten bucks.

Two English Hereford Bulls Arrive

Two outstanding herd sires, purchased by W. J. Edgar and Sons, Lougheed Bros. and Parsonage and Holmes of Innisfail, arrived last week from England. They left Hereford, England last March and have been in quarantine in Scotland and Quebec ever since. However, they arrived in perfect shape.

These two herd sires were selected by W. J. Edgar in Herefordshire last February and will be used in the above-mentioned herds. They will replace Weirton Halflight, an English bull that was imported in 1953 and died last year. He sired the high-priced bull sale that sold for $4100 to the Tee Bar Ranch of Steepleville, Montana.

Many of the females to be sold at W. J. Edgar and Sons 5th production sale, to be held in Olds on November 15th, will carry the services of these new bulls.

Beware Of Tough Grain

The Canadian Wheat Board has warned that if producers thresh out-of-condition grain they must be prepared to store it on their own farms until it can be delivered under unit and general delivery quotas as established from time to time by the Board.

Sufficient elevator space is not available in country and terminal elevators to permit the handling of out-of-condition grain in preference and in volume.

The problem has arisen as a result of unfavorable harvesting weather over most of the prairie provinces in the past two weeks. The harvesting situation, difficult at the moment, could be eased by a favorable turn in weather conditions, the Board adds.

STOCK MARKET NOT LIKE '29

This is not like 1929 in the stock market. The brand new factor in the market of today is the relatively enormous stock buying which is done by experts, operating on sober and sophisticated policies, and with the longer-term result primarily in mind.

Remittall Cattle Co. Add To Herd

A recent transaction of interest to the people of Didsbury was completed by the Remittall Cattle Co. recently. The Remittall herd of Shorthorns are owned by Louis and Carroll Latimer, and the farms are located five miles north of Didsbury.

This herd was increased to over 200 head when the complete herd of Mr. A. G. Wilson was added to the Remittall name.

The females in the Wilson herd were founded mainly from leading herds of America and largely by sons of two Perth champions, the permill Royal and Calrossie Mercury. Two head bred by this herd and in the hands of M. R. Books of Agnes and P. J. Beck and Son, a Drumheller, won their class in the "A" circuit this summer.

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

The Lacombe hog was developed through the application of genetics and scientific breeding principles. The breed, a flap eared white pig, was developed at the Lacombe Experimental Station. The parentage is about one half Landrace, one quarter Berkshire and one quarter Chester White. In the development of this new breed rigorous selection based on record of performance was used.

The Lacombe hog was developed primarily for cross breeding with the Yorkshire. The object of this cross breeding is to get hybrid vigor in the succeeding pigs. To date the Lacombe hog has not been released to the public, they have been boars loaned out to different breeders on further trials. If their progeny has been for commercial marketing.

Recently the announcement has been made that these Lacombe boars will be available to producers anywhere in Canada. There will be only a limited number released. If anyone is interested in getting one of these Lacombe boars he must take the following steps. First write direct to the Experimental Farm at Lacombe for an application form. When the application form is received it must be completed and returned to Lacombe. Boars available will be drawn from the applications received. Remember, if you wish to get one of these boars apply immediately direct to the Experimental Farm, Lacombe, for an official application form.

The deadline date for applications is Monday, September 30th, 1957 and the final draw will take place at 2:00 p.m. on Monday, October 7. This will be a public draw.

If you don't believe Civil Defence has a definite plan for H-Bomb disaster, investigate — you'll find that it does!

WRITES . . .

By HELEN HOWARD

Hello Again Homemakers:

What adds, whether they are 6 or 60, don't love cookies? And what a treat they are when tucked into school lunches or served with milk for an after-school snack.

The problem seems to be keeping the cookie jar full especially at this busy time of year.

Have you ever tried making your own cookie mix? I think you'll find this one a real time saver. Make the mix and store it in a tightly covered container at room temperature.

Oatmeal Mix

7 cups sifted all purpose flour

3/4 cup sugar

1/2 tsp. salt

1/4 cup baking powder

1 lb. shortening

1 box (1lb. 4 oz.) Quick Cooking

Oats

Sift flour, sugar, salt and baking powder together three times. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles corn meal. Add rolled oats and mix well.

When measuring the mixture for the following recipes, pile lightly in cup. Using this mix as a base you can make:

Spicy Drop Cookies

3 cups oatmeal mix

1/2 tsp. cinnamon

1/2 tsp. nutmeg

1/2 tsp. allspice

1/2 cup chopped nuts

1 egg

1/3 cup melted butter

1/3 cup milk

Beat egg, add milk and butter.

Make a well in dry ingredients and stir 40 strokes. Drop by teaspoon. Bake at 300 deg. F. 10-15 minutes.

Hermits

3 cups oatmeal mix

1 tsp. cinnamon

1/2 tsp. cloves

1/4 cup brown sugar

1/4 cup nuts, raisins, dates

1 egg

1/4 cup milk

LEMON DROPS

3 cups oatmeal mix

1/2 tsp. lemon rind

1 egg

1/3 cup milk

1/2 tsp. lemon juice

Coconut Crunches

3 cups oatmeal mix

1 egg

1 cup coconut

1/4 cup melted butter

Chocolate Chip Cookies

3 cups oatmeal mix

1/3 cup brown sugar

8 oz. pkg. chocolate chips

1 egg

1 tsp. vanilla

1/4 cup milk

Try these this week and let me know how you like them.

Wanted: Some 4-H'ers — This district is a very active one for 4-H agricultural clubs. How about you girls? Wouldn't you like to form a club, clothing or interior decorating club? All you need are 8 girls between 12 and 21 years of age. Let me know if you are interested so

I can help you organize a club.

And mothers, sometimes it takes just a little encouragement from you to start the ball rolling.

Cash Advances

"There were sweet words from

Ottawa this week when Prime Minister Diefenbaker announced that a program of financing on business was well on into the positive development stage. We can't see how the government could lose so much on this deal. The whole marketing situation is bound to undermine itself within the next three or four years. Lending money to farmers who have real wheat in their farm bins is not a matter of real relief . . . but it might evolve it self into direct relief if the general economy of the West was permitted to deteriorate through some lack of assistance at this time.

WORK THAT SUMMERFALLOW

I notice that quite a large number of farmers have followed the advice of the agriculturists and left their summerfallow unworked during August and this far into September. They did this in most cases to outsmart the cutworm moth that lays eggs in the top half inch of loose ground such as summerfallow usually is after repeated workings.

If left unworked for a time it trusts over somewhat from the practising action of the rains. This rust is what prevents the cutworm sucking action of the rains. This rust from depositing her eggs in the ground. That is the whole purpose of leaving summerfallow unworked during that period of time.

Adequate rainfall during the past weeks has enabled weeds to make tremendous growth on this unworked summerfallow. In some cases the weeds are starting to flower. Therefore, it is quite important that this land be worked thoroughly without further delay.

thistle is present or other per-

President Taylor was in attendance at the United Missionary Church board meetings held in Elkhart, Indiana over the weekend. He is a member of the publications board, the co-ordinating educational board, the church extension board, which meet once each year to look into matters for the betterment of the church organizations in general. He will return to the college on Thursday.

There is still a great deal of work to be done in the chapel and in the apartments, to get them ready for school opening on October 8th. Any help that can be given would be greatly appreciated by the caretaker, Mr. Arthur Eby.

The school has received a gift of a number of cases of plums from Winfield, B.C. The ladies put them up on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Lydia Suder is out on W.M.S. deputation work during the entire month. She will be in Acadia Valley this coming Sunday. Miss Lois Salmon, of India, a graduate of the college, is accompanying her on this tour.

Mr. Earl Reimer said farewell to Didsbury on Monday when he left for Cascade College, Portland, Ore. to take his last year in the college. He will then have earned his Bachelor of Arts degree. Earl plans to extend his education by several years after graduating from that college, but hasn't yet decided where that will be. We expect much from this talented young man in future days. He will also continue with his violin studies.

We had word from Mrs. Clifford Quanz that the other day. She and her husband have splendid rooms near Bethel College where Clifford is enrolled, and she has a position in a large bank, working on a book-keeping machine. Edward Oke's live in the same apartment house. These are busy young folk and are at present talking their work in college, endeavoring to earn their Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in theology. David Archer is also enrolled there.

We have a number of splendid registrations for the coming year and expect several more before college opens. The business people of this town have always been most gracious to these young people and the college greatly appreciate this. We hope this year these young people will again be an asset to the town.

St. George's W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Manson on September 14th for its monthly meeting. Main topic of business was the purchasing of a sign for the front of the church. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Fagan.

Mr. John Morgan is a patient in the Olds hospital, where he is undergoing treatment for a skin ailment.

Mr. and Mrs. Vic Johnson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Sunday, Sept. 8, in the Didsbury hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morgan, accompanied by Mrs. George Fagan, spent the weekend at Windermere. Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Knights entertained at a buffet dinner recently, honoring their daughter Marilyn on her 21st birthday.

Later the young people attended the dance at the hall.

Harmattan Women's Club will hold a dance at the hall on Friday, September 20th. Allen's orchestra will provide the music.

FAREWELL PARTY FOR HAZEL INGLIS

On Thursday evening, Sept. 12th, sixteen friends and neighbors met at the home of Mrs. Glen Roberts to honor Mrs. Hazel Inglis, who has moved to Innisfail. After two congenial lunches were served and the guest of honor was presented with three pieces of silverware.

Guest Editorial

WHEAT SOLUTION

The Toronto Globe and Mail has found a solution to the wheat situation. Simply cut the price to $1.00 a bushel. We will immediately sell one billion bushels.

The country will do a billion dollars worth of trade; railway employees will be busy; western business will receive a shot in the arm and the people who got our cheap grain will be happy. The Western farmer is not mentioned.

He is probably not considered important in the scheme of things. Where the billion dollars will come from or who is going to develop a sudden appetite for a billion bushels of wheat are also incidents that are ignored by The Globe.

The West does have something to be thankful for, in that everybody who has solutions for the troubles of agriculture does not have the opportunity to put them in practice.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goetjen were among those who were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Banting on Sunday evening. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. John Stevenson and family of Sundre and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Poupke and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Nicholl were callers at the Herbert Goetjen home last week. Mrs. Nicholl is the former Miss Erna Dudaale, and her friends in the district will remember when she worked in the egg grading plant in Didsbury. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholl leave shortly for Trinidad where the former is employed by an oil company.

LONE PINE W.I. PLAN SEWING SCHOOL

Lone Pine W.I. met at the home of Mrs. H. Neilson recently with 17 members and one visitor present.

Plans were made to hold a sewing school in November at Lone Pine hall. Miss Helen Howard, district home economist, will instruct. Miss Howard will also attend the October meeting at Mrs. A. Thompson's in preparation for the event, to tell members what they will need. All members should attend this meeting if possible.

Plans were made to serve lunch at the Fred Metz sale in October.

The contest was presented by Mrs. H. Neilson and won by Mrs. E. Schumaker. The 10-cent draw netted $2.00 and was won by Miss M. Siebert.

Next meeting will be held on October 21st at the home of Mrs. A. Thompson.

Rule Of Law !!!

Violence in some recent industrial strikes again suggests the question of why picketing should be allowed. The right of employees to strike is generally accepted. In fact, it is clearer than the right of an employer to fire a man. That action, whether for good cause or not, is likely to precipitate a strike if the discharged employee is a member in good standing of the union that has been certified as the bargaining agency in the factory concerned.

Officially, the law recognizes "peaceful" picketing; but when peaceful picketing becomes too tame for the strikers' tastes, and stone-throwing, assaults of non-strikers and damage to company property follow, there seems to be quite frequently, a disposition on the part of police and others responsible for enforcement of the law to look the other way and avoid bringing the offenders to justice.

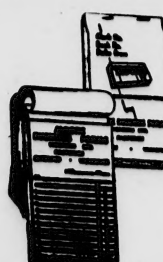

Labor departments, being staffed mainly by union members and sympathizers, seem to consider their function to be primarily to assist labor. Although approximately only one out of five in the Canadian working force is a union member, it is that one whose interests are guarded by the provincial officials. The other four, because they neither belong nor wish to belong to a union, have put themselves out of court, or beyond the law as administered by officials of the labor department.

One seldom sees comments from these officials on the legality of picketing, or on the rights of employers or employees against whose interests the picketing is directed. Perhaps the saying that there is one law for the rich and another for the poor should be revised to read that there is one law for the union members and another for the rest of the public.
